

A city destroyed: Scenes of devastation in besieged Mariupol
Jeremy Schultz - Reuters

An aerial view shows residential buildings that were damaged in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine, April 3, 2022. REUTERS/Pavel Klimov

Local residents walk along a street next to a building damaged in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine April 3. The sign on the vehicle reads: "Children".
REUTERS/Alexander Ermochenko

A local resident sits in the basement of an apartment building in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine, April 3. REUTERS/Stringer

SENSITIVE MATERIAL. THIS IMAGE MAY OFFEND OR DISTURB A local resident carries a broken window past the body of a person killed in a residential area in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine, April 3. REUTERS/Stringer

A local resident reads a book in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine, April 3. REUTERS/Stringer

A view shows buildings damaged in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine, April 3. REUTERS/Stringer

Local residents cross the street with their hands raised as the sound of shelling is heard in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine April 3. REUTERS/Stringer

An interior view shows the theatre destroyed in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine, April 3. REUTERS/Stringer

A view shows an apartment building destroyed in the besieged southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine, April 3. REUTERS/Alexander Ermochenko

A local resident cooks food outside an apartment building in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine, April 3. REUTERS/Stringer

Local residents walk past an apartment building destroyed in the besieged southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine March 31. REUTERS/Alexander Ermochenko

A local resident walks with a bicycle along a street in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine April 4. REUTERS/Stringer

A view shows apartment buildings damaged in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine April 4. REUTERS/Stringer

Local residents walk past a building destroyed in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine April 3. REUTERS/Alexander Ermochenko

An aerial view shows residential buildings that were damaged in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine April 3. REUTERS/Pavel Klimov

Local residents walk past a building destroyed in the southern port city of Mariupol Ukraine April 3. REUTERS/Alexander Ermochenko

An aerial view shows residential buildings that were damaged in Mariupol, Ukraine April 3. REUTERS/Pavel Klimov

A local resident walks past a damaged monument to Ukrainian poet Taras Shevchenko in Mariupol, April 3. REUTERS/Alexander Ermochenko

The Bykovets family members, Olga, 42, Ilya, 13, and Yegor, 5, who seek refuge in abandoned apartments of a residential building damaged, gather in a courtyard in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine April 1. REUTERS/Alexander Ermochenko

A service member of pro-Russian troops runs across a street in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine April 3. REUTERS/Alexander Ermochenko

A local resident walks near an apartment building in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine April 3. REUTERS/Alexander Ermochenko

Local residents walk past a building destroyed in the southern port city of Mariupol Ukraine April 3. REUTERS/Alexander Ermochenko

A woman walks past graves of local residents killed in the southern port city of Mariupol, Ukraine April 3. REUTERS/Stringer