

XONG GAME, FAKE NEWS CNN BỊ LẬT MẶT

Thu âm lên lệnh điều động của CNN boss Jeff Zucker là cùng phối hợp với Big Tech NGĂN CHẶN TIN TỨC CỦA HUNTER BIDEN, đồng thời ra lệnh cho phóng viên tấn công TT Trump. Nhiều tape kín đã bộc lộ CNN là một cơ quan TUYÊN VẬN chứ không phải là NEWS.

Cả ngày nay, người sáng lập Project Veritas, James O'Keefe, đã lật mặt, tiết lộ CNN trong một đoạn video ấn tượng được đăng vào sáng thứ Ba, nhà hoạt động Project Veritas tự xưng và thông báo cho giám đốc CNN Jeff Zucker, “Về cơ bản, chúng tôi đã nghe các cuộc nói chuyện ở đài CNN của ông trong hai tháng và ghi lại mọi thứ. Tôi chỉ muốn hỏi ông Jeff Zucker một số câu hỏi, nếu ông có một chút thời gian. ”

“ Ông có còn cảm thấy mình là cái tên đáng tin cậy nhất trong giới Truyền Thông không? ”.

“Bởi vì tôi phải nói cho ông rõ là những gì tôi đã nghe thấy trong các cuộc điện đàm của ông. Ý tôi là, chúng tôi đã có rất nhiều bản ghi âm cho thấy ông không thực sự là một nhà báo độc lập. ”

“ Cảm ơn bạn đã nhận xét ” Zucker trả lời một cách khô khan.

“Vì vậy, tất cả mọi người, vì vậy, tôi nghĩ điều chúng tôi sẽ làm là thiết lập một hệ thống mới và chúng tôi sẽ quay lại với các bạn, chúng tôi sẽ thực hiện phần còn lại của cuộc gọi sau một chút nữa.”

O'Keefe của nhóm Project Veritas đã phát hiện ra là gì từ CNN? Theo thông cáo vào tối thứ Ba của nhóm anh này, điều đáng nguyền rủa nhất là ban biên tập của CNN đã làm là buộc tội ông Tucker Carlson của Fox News là một kẻ phân biệt chủng tộc.

Phó chủ tịch chương trình toàn cầu của CNN, Marcus Mabry nói trong một đoạn băng. Là làm sao tìm cách chụp mũ ông Tucker Carlson của Fox News là một kẻ phân biệt chủng tộc.

Tucker Carlson của Fox News là một phóng viên bên vực cho lẽ phải và ủng hộ TT Trump đã bị CNN chiếu cố tìm cách hạ gục và điều đơn bản này bị bộc lộ trong tape thu kính cuộc nói chuyện của Phó chủ tịch chương trình toàn cầu của CNN, Marcus Mabry.

Trong liên tục 2 tháng, Project Veritas đã thu âm được hàng chục cuộc nói chuyện điều động của những người cầm đầu CNN như giám đốc CNN Jeff Zucker đã ra lệnh cho phóng viên dìm tin tức của Hunter Biden và bôi nhọ TT Trump.

Việc làm đơn bản của CNN bị bộc lộ và tức quá giám đốc CNN Jeff Zucker đã gọi Cảnh sát can thiệp bắt người đầu âm lên, tuy nhiên Cảnh sát đã KHÔNG can thiệp vào chuyện này.

More:

<https://nypost.com/.../cnn-caught-burying-the-posts.../>

<https://nypost.com/.../cnn-caught-burying-the-posts.../>

OPINION

CNN liberal apologists caught burying The Post's Hunter Biden exposé: Devine Miranda Devine

CNN boss Jeff Zucker ordered the network to ignore The Post's exposé on Hunter Biden, according to leaked recordings of network meetings after the story broke. Getty Images for CNN

The collusion of mainstream media and Big Tech to censor The Post's Hunter Biden story now is laid bare in leaked recordings of CNN's news meetings from the time.

CNN boss Jeff Zucker is heard instructing his staff to downplay the bombshell story that implicated Joe Biden in a shady foreign influence-peddling scheme, according to audio released Tuesday by undercover news outlet Project Veritas.

On the morning of Oct. 14, the day we published an email from Hunter's abandoned laptop in which a top executive from corrupt Ukrainian energy company Burisma thanked Hunter for arranging a meeting with his then-VP father, CNN political director David Chalian is heard telling Zucker and his underlings that the news network would not cover the story.

“Obviously, we’re not going with the New York Post story right now on Hunter Biden,” said Chalian.

“We’ll just continue to report out this is the very stuff that the president was impeached over . . . that Senate committees looked at and found nothing wrong in Joe Biden’s interactions with Ukrainians.”

Chalian, who oversees all of CNN's political coverage, was not being straight with his colleagues.

This was new evidence reflecting on Joe Biden's integrity, suggesting that despite repeated denials, he had met with an executive of the company that was paying his wayward son up to $83,000 a month to sit on its board, at a time when Burisma was looking for favors from the US government and he was vice president.

This was the first concrete link between Joe and his family's shady foreign business deals, and there was much more to come over the next few days, all ignored or pooh-poohed by CNN in a naked bid to protect the Biden campaign from legitimate scrutiny.

Most of the rest of the media followed suit. Twitter locked The Post's account for two weeks and Facebook throttled our audience reach.

What made our story all the more compelling that first day was the feeble response from Joe's campaign. Initially, they said there was no record of any such meeting on his "official schedule," but finally admitted that an "informal" meeting with Burisma may have occurred.

On no planet is that not news.

President-elect Joe Biden (right) and his son Hunter REUTERS

But CNN proved that it is not the nonpartisan purveyor of straight news it once was, before reality TV huckster Zucker took over and turned it into a tool of the anti-Trump Resistance, leading the way for other media.

"Hey, Jeff, it's just David on the Burisma story," David Vigilante, general counsel for CNN, is heard telling Zucker, according to the Project Veritas recording.

“We should be awfully careful about that obviously, but I do think there’s a media story in what in the world are [the New York Times’] Maggie Haberman and [Politico’s] Jake Sherman doing re-tweeting that story?”

Sherman soon saw his error, apologized profusely and deleted his tweet: “My goal was not to spread [the story]. My goal was to raise questions.”

You see here how CNN acts as a sheepdog to shame and coerce reporters from other organizations to stick to the approved narrative.

Two days after we broke the Hunter story, CNN moved to traducing it, wheeling out James Clapper, one of the contributors it pays to push the debunked conspiracy theory that President Trump was a Russian agent. Clapper told CNN our story was “textbook Soviet Russian tradecraft.”

The following week, Hunter’s ex-business partner Tony Bobulinski held a press conference and produced documents claiming Joe Biden had actively engaged in his family scheme to make millions of dollars from Communist China. He revealed that Joe Biden was the “big guy” referred to in a Hunter email who was to receive a 10 percent cut of one of the Chinese deals.

Here was further evidence that Joe had been lying about his involvement in his family’s shady business.

But the day after the Bobulinski story broke, at CNN’s 9 a.m. news conference call, Zucker again issued orders to bury it.

“On the Breitbart, New York Post, Fox News rabbit hole of Hunter Biden, which I don’t think anybody outside of that world understood last night, the Wall Street Journal reported that their review of all corporate records showed no role for Joe Biden on the Chinese deal.”

“And yes, I do put more credibility in the Wall Street Journal than I do in the New York Post.”

And that was how the story was killed.

But failing to find corporate records showing a role for Joe Biden doesn’t make the story moot. Even if that particular China deal was never finalized doesn’t mean it was not planned.

And whether or not Joe’s name appears on corporate records does not refute the story, either, since we have published texts and emails in which Hunter tells his partners to keep his father’s involvement quiet.

Biden admin looks like one more try at liberal technocratic government

The Journal’s story was an excuse for the rest of the media to bury the whole affair for the last two weeks of the election campaign, failing even to ask Joe Biden questions.

A measure of how deep this story was buried can be seen in a poll last week from the Media Research Center that found 45 percent of Biden voters had never heard of the Hunter scandal, and 9.4 percent said they would not have voted for Joe had they known.

As an addendum, you may not know that two weeks after the election, an ongoing Senate inquiry into Hunter and his business dealings released new findings that identify $6 million transferred from a Communist Chinese government entity to a business associate of Hunter.

This story is even more important now that Joe is president-elect. If he lied about his family's lucrative business dealings with China, it makes him vulnerable to extortion. This is what used to be called news.

CNN boss Jeff Zucker urged staff not to 'normalize' Trump's behavior during election, leaked audiotapes show

Joseph A. Wulfsohn

Zucker also hinted when the Hunter Biden story broke that his network should ignore it.

Project Veritas releases first wave of CNN editorial call recordings

Leaked audiotapes of top executives at CNN shed some light on the coordinated hostility the network has had toward President Trump in the weeks leading up to the election as well as after.

Self-described "guerrilla journalist" James O'Keefe revealed Tuesday morning that his organization Project Veritas had been secretly recording the network's conference calls over the span of two months. Many of the recordings involve CNN President Jeff Zucker.

In several released batches of edited clips, Zucker is heard sounding off against Trump. During a conference call Oct. 9, he urged his staff to not "normalize" the president's "erratic" behavior as he was recovering from the coronavirus, suggesting the president's medical treatment was affecting his actions.

"OK, I just want to re-emphasize that, you know, I think we cannot normalize what has happened here in the last week with Trump and his behavior," Zucker is heard saying.

"And I go back to what [CNN political Director] David, David Chalian said, that this is a president who knows he's losing, who knows he's in trouble, is sick, maybe is on the after-effects of steroids or not. I don't know, but he is acting erratically and desperately, and we need to, we need to not normalize that. ... He is all over the place and acting erratically. And I think we need to lean into that."

In another conference call a week later, Oct. 16, Zucker appears to allude to the Hunter Biden email scandal that the New York Post broke just two days prior -- as well as the unmasking controversy involving top Obama administration officials, including now-President-elect Biden, requesting the identity of former Trump national security adviser Gen. Michael Flynn during the transition, both stories Zucker suggested the network shouldn't cover.

"The Trump media, you know, moves immediately from -- OK, well, never mind -- the unmasking was, you know, found to be completely nonsensical to the latest alleged scandal and expects everybody to just follow suit," Zucker told his staff.

"So, I don't think that we should be repeating unsubstantiated smears just because the right-wing media suggests that we should."

Zucker's message on dismissing the Hunter Biden controversy appeared to have later resonated with his star anchor Jake Tapper, who said Oct. 22 that the allegations against Biden's son were "too disgusting" to repeat on air and that the "Right-wing is going crazy."

On Nov. 10, Zucker had an exchange with CNN field producer Stephanie Becker, who invoked the 9/11 Commission Report as something that should be part of the network's coverage of the delayed Trump-Biden transition.

"On the issue of why it's important to get the transition going right, the 9/11 report talks about one of the problems was that the trouble that was brewing that [got] lost during the transition," Becker explained.

"So, if you want a good, concrete example of what happens when you don't have a good transition, well, look at the Twin Towers."

"Yeah, so I think that's an important point," Zucker responded.

"I think it was just a little bit yesterday in terms of national security. I think it's really important to raise again. ... I would encourage folks to think about that 9/11 Commission Report and the lack of transition."

In a Nov. 17 recording, the CNN honcho defended the network's infamous highly editorialized on-air graphics, saying, "If we've made any mistake, it's been that our banners have been too polite."

He also urged his staff that they "need to go well after Lindsey Graham," which is likely in reference to alleged communications the South Carolina Republican senator had with Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger, who claimed Graham urged him to throw out certain ballots to help President Trump, something Graham vehemently denied.

"There is a lot of news out there, and Lindsey Graham really deserves it," Zucker reiterated.

Several articles were written and published Nov. 17 about Graham on CNN's website, including a piece accusing him of "crossing the line" to defend Trump.

CNN President Jeff Zucker. (Reuters)

On Tuesday evening, CNN Communications responded to O'Keefe's viral video showing him intruding on a conference call that took place earlier that morning, telling him "Legal experts say this may be a felony. We've referred it to law enforcement."

CNN did not immediately respond to Fox News' multiple requests for comment, including an inquiry about which law enforcement agency the network had reached out to.

Later Tuesday during "Hannity," O'Keefe did not appear to be threatened by CNN's tweet, saying "We have legal experts at Project Veritas and we think that Jeff Zucker is just mad and embarrassed here for what we have exposed."

Fox News host Sean Hannity asked O'Keefe, "They peddled this Russia lie for three years over there. They never apologized, they never corrected the record, and they reported fake phony news and advanced conspiracy theories. ... Is this a news organization to you?"

"No, Sean. This is something that doesn't shock people but confirms a lot of suspicions," O'Keefe responded.

"To see the president of a media conglomerate barking orders at his reporters and journalists, telling them what to cover, what not to cover. That's not anything resembling journalism I know."

"I run an organization with a few dozen reporters. They come to me with facts. They're not yessing me. In fact, they're challenging me. And what Jeff Zucker is doing on these phone calls is telling people what the story is, telling them what not to cover. This is propaganda! ... We've never actually seen it -- fly on the wall, you can actually hear the president of the company instruct his vice president, instruct his reporters what the narrative ought to be.

This is the farthest thing from journalism that I know. And I think that CNN owes an apology to the people. I mean, this is disgraceful," O'Keefe told Hannity.

O'Keefe compared future releases of other recordings to an "advent calendar" and that Project Veritas will be releasing more tapes "every day" in the coming weeks. He credited a "brave whistleblower insider" who approached his organization and helped coordinate the conference call recordings.

Zucker has long expressed animus toward Trump but previously had a very close working relationship with the president as the CEO of NBC Universal at the height of the NBC's hit reality show, "The Apprentice," which helped broaden Trump's popularity.

<https://www.foxnews.com/.../cnn-jeff-zucker-project-veritas>

Joseph A. Wulfsohn is a media reporter for Fox News. Follow him on Twitter @JosephWulfsohn.

And everything else I will get this message when trying to read. Decide your own conclusion about the CNN.

Something has gone wrong...

It seems you clicked on a bad link and stumbled upon our 404 page

<https://www.foxnews.com/.../cnn-jeff-zucker-david-chalian...>